Churchill Tells Allied Policy

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

CUT EIRE OFF FROM WORLD

AUSTEN LAKE'S STORY FROM ENGLAND

Blockade to Seal All Eire

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today Britain and the United States plan "to isolate southern Ireland from the outer world"—a virtual quarantine by methods yet to be disclosed which would seal off that potential spy post during the 11th hour to the opening of the western front. Churchill's words clearly implied an extension of restrictions to the border between northern Ireland and Eire, and perhaps even a semi-blockade of Eire, where President de Valera has refused to close German and Japanese offices.

IRELAND—With an apparent reference to the approaching invasion, Prime Minister Churchill today told Commons that Eire will be isolated from England and the six counties of Northern Ireland to minimize any possibility of information of military moves falling into enemy hands.

Restrictions on travel to Eire, Churchill said, are "designed to isolate Great Britain from southern Ireland, and southern Ireland from the outer world during the approaching critical period."

U. S. TOOK INITIATIVE

Churchill's complete statement: "The initiative in this matter was taken by the United States government because of the danger to the American armed forces from the presence of Axis missions in Dublin. The British government, however, was consulted throughout by the United States government and gave the American approach full support.

"We have for some time past taken a number of measures to minimize the dangers arising from a substantial disservice to the Allied ceuse involved in the retention by Mr. de Valera's government of the German minister and Japanese consul with their staffs in Dublin.

"The time has now come when these measures must be strengthened and the restrictions on travel to Ireland announced in the press yesterday are the first step in a policy designed to isolate Great Britain from southern Ireland and also to isolate southern Ireland from the outer world during the critical period which now is approaching.

SOLDIERS' LIVES IN PERIL

"I need scarcely to say how painful it is to us to take such measures in view of the large numbers of Irishmen who are fighting so bravely in our armed forces and the many deeds of personal heroism by which they have kept alive the martial honor of the Irish race.

"No one, I think, can reproach us for precipitancy. No nation in the world would have been so patient. In view, however, of the fact that both British and Dominion lives and the lives of the soldiers of our Allies are imperilled, we are bound to do our utmost to obtain effective security for the forthcoming operations.

"There is also the future to consider. If a catastrophe were to occur to the Allied armies which could be traced to the retention of the German and Japanese representatives in Dublin, a gulf would be opened between Great Britain on the one hand and southern Ireland on the other which even generations would not bridge.

"The British government would also be held accountable to the people of the United States if it could be shown that we had in any way failed to do everything in our power to safeguard their troops."

ABOUT IRISH REPUBLICANS

Sir William Henry Davison, Conservative, asked later whether the prime minister considered it essential the Ulster-Eire border be closed "in view of the activities of the IRA (Irish Republican Army), who had declared war on Britain and had recently been apprehended with papers giving particulars of the American forces at

IRISH IN HUB NOT WORRIED BY BLOCKADE

Although the Irish Free State's merchant marine has only 10 small, old vessels to its name, Prime Minister Churchill's promise to isolate the Free State from the rest of the world has caused little concern to Irish diplomats, it was apparent here today.

Sources close to officials reported a belief Southern Ireland's heavy dependence on coal and oil, for example, will not go unsatisfied.

They expected England will designate an English port for the receipt of Irish agricultural products and an Irish port where England will permit Welsh coal to be landed.

Joseph D. Brennan, Irish consul in Boston, would not elaborate on the optimistic stand taken by persons informed on Irish thought and policy—but after hearing of their views he said: "My guess is they are substantially correct."

BANK CREDITS SAFE

It was learned elsewhere that the Free State has approximately $600,000,000 in bank credits in England. There was no expectation that this would be frozen.

One observer commented: "This represents money due Irish exporters for agricultural goods and raw products shipped to England.

"It is only realistic to assume," he added, "that the big financial interests will find a way to do business, perhaps not 'as usual,' but you can rest assured the credits will be good."

No one in authority here was in a mood to speculate on what will happen to the 10 ships which constitute Ireland's merchant marine if they are operated in defiance of British warnings.

One was built in 1894 and the others are sof ar from modern that even if they could be used they would not have enough cargo space to carry to Ireland the necessities she requires.

U. S. Troops Set to Guard Eire Border

LONDON, March 14 (INS)—American and British "security troops" were reported ready today to take up positions along the border between Eire and Ulster.

The London Daily Herald, quoting a dispatch from Belfast, said the Ulster government was "expected momentarily" to close the frontier with Eire as a security measure to prevent leakage of military information to Axis agents in Dublin.

Due to the small size of the Ulster constabulary, the Anglo-American forces were expected to be needed to patrol effectively the frontier, which winds some 200 miles between two points actually only 90 airline miles apart.

All persons and goods passing to and from Erie will be subject to rigid control and censorship, the report said.

Already the British ban on traffic to the 26 counties of southern Ireland was in operation.

Closing of the border between Eire and Ulster, it was pointed out, would greatly strengthen British restrictions on travel between Britain and Ireland because at present persons cross the frontier daily simply by showing identification cards.

The Belfast Newsleter declared the border remaoins a channel of leakage. From Southern Ireland, however, came the following view from the Cork Examiner:

"That a threat to Eire's neutrality should come from the United States government is as regrettable as it was unexpected. Whether it is backed by armed or economic force is unpredictable, but whatever occurs the people of this small nation are not going to be intimidated by threats."

ALLIES STILL BOGGED DOWN IN ITALIAN MUD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 14 (AP)—The weather has improved in Italy but the ground remains extremely soft, holding both the Allied and German armies mudbound except for patrol operations, which yesterday included sharp clashes near Minturno and Cassino on the main Fifth Army front.

Allied raiders probed the German lines around Cisterna and Littoria in the beachhead area below Rome and American troops seized 13 prisoners and dispersed the remainder of a German patrol.

It was estimated it will take another week at least for the ground to harden sufficiently to permit large-scale operations.

Allied planes flew 1000 sorties yesterday, pounding communications in central Italy.

Aussies Know

CANBERRA, Australia, March 14 (AP)—Prime Minister John Curtin today refused a Parliament member's request to ask the U. S. to reduce the pay of American soldiers in Australia to the Australian soldiers' level.

"It is not a matter which properly falls within the Australian government's jurisdiction," he said. "I do not think the U. S. Government would welcome such a recommendation."

Axis Masses All Ships for Odessa Flight

LONDON, March 14 (AP) — Every available Axis ship in Rumania's Black Sea ports has been rushed to Odessa, an Istanbul dispatch said today. This appeared to foreshadow complete collapse of the Germans' broken southern flank in Russia in a vast scale 1944 Dunkirk, which would pull the battle line back into obviously frightened Rumania.

The Istanbul dispatch, based on information from Sofia, suggested the Germans were preparing to evacuate Odessa by sea.

Following Stalin's announcement last night of the capture of Kherson, 90 miles east of Odessa, the German high command said today the base has been evacuated "in the course of planned disengagement movements after destruction of all military installations."

The communique also said both sides had thrown new reserves into the struggle on the eastern front.

Moscow announced 75,000 Nazis killed and captured in 10 days of the offensive in lower Russia. Kherson fell to Gen. Malinovsky's Third Ukraine army, made up of Stalingrad veterans, after crossing the Dnieper.

On the basis of Moscow announcements, 350,000 Germans have been killed and 40,000 captured since the inception of the Red army winter offensives.

Moscow said the Germans fled "in panic" into Kherson, and that when the Red army broke into the city it slaughtered those Nazis who tried to make a stand.

RAF Hammers France, Germany

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—RAF Halifaxes, droning out under a waning "bomber's moon," staged a heavy attack last night on the strategic railway center of Le Mans in western France, while Mosquitos struck at Frankfurt and other places in western Germany.

It was the second bombardment of Le Mans—115 miles southwest of Paris—in six nights. Two bombers were lost.

The precision blow by moonlight was another punch in the new Allied day-and-night campaign against Nazi transportation facilities all over France, hitting at the vital arteries for quick movement of troops and supplies to the Germans, "invasion wall."

The Germans, their blitz revival at least temporarily subsiding to sneak raids, for the second successive night sent a small force over the south coast of England, dropping a few bombs harmlessly and setting off sirens in one London area.

Night fliers also laid mines in enemy waters. One plane was lost on intruder patrols over the continent.

Stepup Of Dad Draft Near

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt is expected today to ask local boards to adopt a hard-boiled policy on the drafting of fathers, in order to protect vital war industries from a growing military drain on their skilled help.

Roosevelt, it was predicted, will "clarify" his memorandum of Feb. 26, which called for a review of all occupational deferments and which — so officials assert — has prompted many draft boards to turn to industrially-deferred non-fathers to fill their quotas.

POSTPONE DRAFT

The memorandum thus has had the effect, some government sources said, of giving the local boards another way of postponing the draft of fathers, even though Mr. Roosevelt did not intend any special consideration for them.

War Manpower Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt made the disclosure yesterday that a White House message might be forthcoming within 24 hours.

He indicated, after he and War Production Board Chairman Donald Nelson had talked with the President, that the subject to be dealt with was occupational deferment and the "serious situation" arising from the exodus of trained manpower from war plants.

SAME TREATMENT

McNutt stopped talking at that point, but informed sources within the War Production Board and WMC offered these predictions:

1—That Mr. Roosevelt would emphasize that pre-Pearl Harbor fathers should get the same treatment as non-fathers.

2—That he would call for some new machinery to insure that highly essential plants get a measure of protection from the drafting of engineers, technicians and other key workers.

The manpower problem made a highly explosive session of last Tuesday's meeting of the full War Production Board, it was learned, with the top officials of several agencies complaining against the new trend toward drafting of key workers.

Find 2 Auburn Boys' Bodies in Pond

WORCESTER, March 14 — Bodies of two Auburn schoolboys were found today beneath the ice on Leesville pond, ending a search since yesterday by Worcester and Auburn police after the youths failed to return from a trip to Worcester library.

William R. Anderson, 10, of Shore dr., and Richard Peckham, 9, drowned when the ice broke beneath them, according to Police Chief Charles Braman of Auburn. The bodies were found in eight feet of water.

Foster Parents Win Baby Girl

Little Marie Ann Lallis, who has "eaten into the heart and become part of" George J. Johnson of Jamaica Plain, became his legal daughter today under a decree signed by Probate Judge Frederick J. Dillon.

The order allowed the adoption petition brought by Johnson and his wife, Dorothy, Burroughs st. Jamaica Plain, who have had the 3-year-old girl in their home since she was an infant.

Adoption of the curly-haired girl was fought by her mother, Adele L. Lallis, Massachusetts ave., Cambridge, though it was testified her objection was mainly on the ground the Johnsons were not Catholics.

The young mother, a Cambridge war plant worker, admitted at the hearing last month that outside of the religious question she would consider the Johnsons "excellent people to bring up the child."

She has no facilities in her small home, the mother said, to have the girl with her.

It was brought out at the hearing the mother had signed a waiver by which she relinquished all rights to supervise the religious education of Marie Ann. On the witness stand, however, she asserted she had "read it so fast that I didn't know what I was doing."

Under the adoption decree, Marie Ann Lallis becomes Marie Ann Johnson.

Onion Hunt

OPA inspectors sniffed around in Boston and Springfield today in search of the elusive onion.

Price officials disclosed they have received reports of a large-scale black market in onions, with trucks hauling them to New York from Massachusetts cities for re-sale at big profits.

Onions are especially scarce in Boston, where the shortage is expected to continue until about the second week in April, when the first of the Texas crop should arrive here.

Poletti Denies Attacks

NAPLES, March 14 (AP)—Lieut.-Col. Charles Poletti, former governor of New York, laughed today when informed of a report published in New York four attempts had been made on his life in Italy.

"The report is absolutely false," he said.

AEF Ducks Cootie Evils Of 1918 War

By AUSTEN LAKE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND—One curse of the previous world war that is not being visited upon our soldiery—at least those in England, is the dread, vicious "cootie' — the tiny, black-centered louse that used to swarm over the old AEF until the men became walking menageries.

The cootie is gone, and the reason for its absence is the careful sanitation and cleanliness of the Army.

No matter where or how a unit is billeted, it has its bathing facilities. That and the fact that every barrack room, or Nissen hut or house where the men are quartered is kept pin-neat and housewifely tidy—a matter of considerable surprise to some of the small town British, who have been used to the dust of centuries and regard antique grime as no sin.

This is a clean army which has been spared, so far, one of the horrors of war-body vermin. It is also a better clothed, better fed and better paid army than any other in the world.

In that other war our divisions were recruted regionally—the Yankee Division from New England, the Rainbow Division from the middle west, and so forth.

But here the men are mixed at random, thrown together indiscriminately and without regard to home locality.

It is a sound idea, for it brings together lads from the far-flung corners of the country who meet on a common, focal understanding. Almost every outfit over here is a blend of forty-eight states without any predominating locality.

There are always New Englanders somewhere about, if you know where to look for them, lads sprinkled through the units as JERUSALEM, March 14 (AP)—British forces in the Middle East are engaged in the largest maneuvers staged in the area since the war began.

Training in mountain warfare is being stressed in the maneuvers in the Jordan valley near the Palestine-Transjordan frontier.

In addition to British troops, thousands of Indian, Greek, Yugoslav and Arab troops are participating.

(The announcement follows hints action impends in the Balkan area. Prime Minister Churchill on Feb. 22 said it was Britain's intention to "back Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia with all the strength we have."

Jail Bank Thief Whose Bets Won

The Chelsea bank teller who won enough on horse race bets to replace the $20,000 he was charged with embezzling today was sentenced by Federal Judge George C. Sweeney to two months in jail after he pleaded guilty in federal court.

Charles S. Dineen, 52, Silsbee st., Lynn, teller in Broadway National Bank, Chelsea, for 17 years, was sentenced after Asst. U. S. Atty. Joseph M. Hargedon recommended a four-month term "because of his previous clean record."

Hargedon said Dineen embezzled $18,000 at one time and bet $17,000 of it on a horse which won. With the winnings he replaced the money he was alleged to have embezzled, Hargedon said.

Pledges in N. E. Cheer Bricker On Trip West

"I am greatly encouraged from a party standpoint by my visit to New England and I am convinced that the people of this section, like those of other states, are going to join in defeating the New Deal."

With this confident statement, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, aspirant for the Republican presirential nomination, left Boston shortly after noon today with the praise of Massachusetts G O P leaders ringing in his ears.

The personable Ohio chief executive lavished unstinting praise on Gov. Saltonstall, his host during his stay in the Bay State.

PRAISES SALTONSTALL

"I want to take this occasion to pay tribute to your distinguished Governor and to thank him for his many courtesies. During the past five years, as representatives of our states we have been at many meetings together," Gov. Bricker asid.

"Always I have been impressed with his sincerity, with his ability to see clearly many troublesome problems that have confronted us and his courage to always stand for what is right.

"I know the high esteem in which he is held among the governors of the union, and this was attested by them last June at the meeting in Columbus, O., when Gov. Santonstall was unanimously elected chairman of the governors' conference.

PROVEN LEADERSHIP

"The ability of your distinguished Governor, who has done so much during his three terms here to establish a confidence on the part of the public in their state government, is recognized across the nation.

"He is known as a man of proven leadership, ability, breadth of vision and courage.

"Because of the splendid administration of such Republican governors as Governor Saltonstall, there has come a new confidence and faith in the leadership of the Republican party and the nation is now looking to the Republican party to free it from the shackles of the New Deal.

CITES G. O. P. GAINS

"The people are looking to the Republican party to solve the tremendous problems which confront our nation."

Gov. Bricker, pointing to the increase in governorships held by Republicans from eight to 26, declared "this increase represents a great portion of the industrial strength of the nation and about two-thirds of the population.

"The rapid increase in Republican Governors shows that the people have been anxious to improve their state governments and the time is now at hand when the people are going to provide a housecleaning in their national government."

Before leaving for Springfield, where he will address the Employers' Ass'n of Western Massachusetts tonight, Governor and Mrs. Bricker were breakfast guests of Governor and Mrs. Saltonstall.

The Ohio governor will leave Springfield at midnight for a business trip to New York city, after which he will continue to Columbus, O.

JAPS PRESS NEW FIGHT TO AVENGE 1000

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

Japanese hopelessly trapped on Bougainville island in the Solomons have been repulsed bloodily in a four-day suicidal attack on the Allied positions at Empress Augusta bay, but are reported regrouping.

A new Allied drive in northern Burma was announced by Southeast Asia Allied headquarters today. British forces breached enemy defenses on the upper Chindwin river, thus adding a new spearhead in the drive to open a land supply route to China.

From the South Pacific, Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland reported that at the height of the Bougainville battle, more than 500 Japs hurled themselves in a frenzied death plunge at the north end of the Allied lines. A few got through but were wiped out.

Headquarters estimated at least 1000 Japanese have been killed and many more wounded in the battle which began Wednesday. American casualties have been light.

American cavalrymen who have brought Los Negros island under control occupied two small islands 1000 yards off the coast of Manus island, largest in the Admiralty group. Minor resistance was overcome.

Wewak, New Guinea, was pounded from the air for the second day with a 112-ton assault Sunday, and Rabaul, New Britain, had Allied planes overhead for six hours during a 117-ton strike.

Wake island was raided for the 15th time with 50 tons of explosives. Other planes hit Naru in the Gilberts and three undesignated atolls in the Marshalls.

Vets' Rights Bill Enters Final Lap

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 14—Introduced into Congress with the unprecedented total of 79 senators as actual sponsors, the omnibus "G-I Bill of Rights" for rehabilitation of veterans is expected to be passed overwhelmingly by the upper branch of America's legislature before the end of this week.

Today the measure was going through the final, formal preliminaries to adoption.

At the same time, work on the measure is progressing in the House of Representatives, where Cong. John E. Rankin's committee on World War II veterans is perfecting the document.

To Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, as head of the Senate sub-committee, fell the honor of introducing the "bill of rights" to the Senate in regular session.

The endorsement of 79 Senators, whose names appear as coauthors of the proposed law, constituted an all-time record in the 169-year history of the Senate.

Shortly before Sen. Clark rose dramatically in the Senate to read the bill, nine more names were added to the original list of 70 senatorial sponsors. Among the new names was that of Sen. Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts.

Stating it was familiarly known as "The GI Bill of Rights," Sen. Clark said: "We have worked long and hard to bring out the best and most comprehensive bill which is possible for us to enact at this time."

"The men and women of the armed services and those who will be in the armed services before the end of this war, not only now hold the fate of this country in their hands but they will hold it for a generation to come.

"On the extent to which they can be speedily re-integrated in our population as decent, lawabiding citizens, the welfare of this nation depends."

Commando Aegean Raid Fails, Say Nazis

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP) — The Berlin radio said today 30 British Commandos raided the German-held Aegean island of Tilos (Piscope), but declared the attack was "frustrated." Several of the Aegean islands were occupied by British forces after Italy's surrender, only to be lost to the Germans.

REP. ROGERS RIPS FEDERAL BALLOT PLAN

Special to Boston American

WASHINGTON, March 14—Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (Rep.-Mass.) has attacked the federal "bobtail ballot' 'on the floor of the House as being a "thoroughly dishonest measure" to enable the New Deal to control the next presidential election.

Two thirds of servicemen and women will be cheated of their rightsh if it passes, she said.

"During the 1943 session of the Massachusetts General Court, legislation passed relative to absentee voting by servicemen was a great forward step, as a result of popular demand and foresight, accomplished the very thing that supporters of the federal ballot proposal have argued states would not do," she argued.

"The Massachusetts act provides for the registration of men who reach the voting age while serving abroad or at distant camps. Their relatives can record them as voters. It also permits servicemen's relatives to have ballots mailed to servicemen who do not personally apply for them.

"A ballot sent to a soldier in London was back in 5 days. A ballot sent to a commissioned officer in India was back in 26 days. A ballot sent to a man in North Africa was back in 11 days. A ballot sent to a sailor on the Pacific fleet flagship was back in 17 days. A ballot sent to a marine in the Solomons was back in 23 days. A ballot sent to a soldier in Alaska was back in 14 days.

"In brief, Brookline reached the most distant point of the globe and did it all in less than a month."

3 Dorchester Children Saved in Burning Home

Three children, all under 10, were rescued from flames today by an oil truck driver and his helper during a two-alarm fire that virtually destroyed the large mansion of Domenico J. De Stefano in Ashmont st., Dorchester.

Flames were breaking through the windows of the three and one-half story structure, owned and occupied by the head of D. DeStefano Co., Inc., paper manufacturers, when Peter Sheraten, the truck driver, and his helper, Jack Oakton, came through the thoroughfare.

They halted the truck and rushed across the grounds of the estate. While they were bringing out the three little girls, several adults made their escape unaided.

According to police, the girls were of the Albiani restaurant family.

3 Sailors Go To Court in Auto Holdup

Returned here from Philadelphia, three young sailors faced Roxbury court today in connection with the unarmed robbery, last Feb. 8, of Dr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Gillespie of the Myles Standish Hotel, Back Bay.

The sailors, Garland Weatherby, 17, of Stokes, N. C., Joseph G. Sampson, 18, of New York city, and Cecil Abernathy, 19, of West Durham, N. C., were apprehended in Philadelphia upon arrival aboard a merchant vessel and identified by the Gillespies as their assailants.

According to Dr. Gillespie, the sailors attacked him and his wife in Newbury st., Back Bay, as they were driving back to the hotel after treating the sailors to dinner in a downtown Chinese restaurant. The Gillespie auto was stolen and later found abandoned in Weymouth.

U. S. Eyes Vote In N. H. Today

CONCORD, N. H., March 14—The eyes of the nation were on New Hampshire today as voters of this state went to the polls in the country's first pre-convention primary, marked by a duel between Wendell Willkie and Gov. Dewey of New York for Republican convention delegates.

Willkie visited prominent Republicans last week in an open bid for delegates. On the other hand, Dewey has maintained, publicly at least, a hands-off attitude.

The Democrats were united behind the renomination of President Roosevelt, despite some factional contests.

Because of a technicality in the state election, many avowed Willkie candidates were listed on today's ballot as unpledged. Among them were former U. S. Sen. George H. Moses and ex-Gov Huntley N. Spaulding.

COMMISSION 12 SHIPS A DAY, KNOX REVEALS

By JOSEPH A. BORS

WASHINGTON, March 14 (INS)—Navy Secretary Knox revealed today American seagoing vessels now are being commissioned at the rate of almost 12 per day and that at the end of 1944 there would be 3,006,000 officers and enlisted men in the Navy.

Rear Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of the Navy's bureau of personnel, also at the conference, estimated the overall strength of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard would be 3,700,000 by the end of 1944.

Jacobs explained the ship commissionings included naval craft such as warships, auxiliaries and larger landing craft, but did not include small oil barges and landing boats.

The Navy will need approximately 500,000 officers and men to fill its scheduled 1944 quota.

Both Jacobs and Knox stressed the need for sea-going officers under 35 years of age, who are needed particularly for amphibious operations, for cargo transports and destroyer escorts.

Low Ceiling

WASPS Face Abolition In Probe

WASHINGTON, March 14—An inquiry as to whether the WASP (Women's Airforce Service Pilots) program, the organization which grew out of the Women's Auxiliary Ferrying Squadron formed under Mrs. Nancy Harkness Love, of Boston, should be continued, may be considered by the House Civil Service investigating committee, it was learned today.

Criticism of WASP training grew out of the fact thousands of experienced men pilots are looking for jobs.

The WASP are civilian government employes assigned to the Army Air Forces. There are about 600 women in service and 400 in training.

Mutterings about the WASP in male flying circles increased sharply after the Army and Navy gave notice of intention to abandon the war training program under the Civil Aeronautics Administration, thus releasing about 900 men pilots.

Many of these men will lose their deferred draft status and may be put into the "walking army," if they they do not take over the work being done by the WASP.

Jail Buyer's Woes Mount

HARVARD, Neb., March 14 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Robert Pinckney of Harvard said today the city is attempting to assess him $17.80 for trimming trees and cutting grass on the city jail property he purchased for $1.50 at a tax sale last July.

Pinckney sold the jail yesterday for approximately $60 to O. E. Hunt, local ice man, to use as a "cooler."

Last summer the jail was auctioned in Hollywood at a war bond rally, and Charley McCarthy, the wooden comedian, purchased it for $10,000. Later Charlie returned the jail to Robert.

Pinckney, who says he's now a member of a public relations staff in Los Angeles, declared he is having his attorney file charges of trespaass against the city on the ground the city used the jail after he purchased it.

Doolittles Son Likes Medium Bombers

USAAF NINTH BOMBER COMMAND HEADQUARTERS IN ENGLAND, March 14 (AP)—While his famous father commands the American heavy bomber force based on England, Capt. James H. Doolittle, Jr., 23, prefers to fly medium bombers and hopes soon to be piloting a Marauder over Europe.

Recently transfered to this theater after 14 months with air forces in the Pacific, young Doolittle helps plan Marauder attacks on ground targets in western Europe. However, he is "doing a lot of bucking" to get in some combat flying.

I. E. FLIER GETS ZERO AS HE IS DOWNED

A Middleboro youth got his first ero, attacked another, was himself shot down and rescued from life raft, all within six hours during a mission over Rabaul.

That rapid-fire story was disclosed today in an Army dispatch telling of the experiences of Second Lieut. William R. Thomas, Army fighter pilot of the 13th AAF Fighter Command in the South Pacific.

Thomas nailed the Zero while he was flying with a crack P-38 squadron escorting Navy bombers over Rabaul. Later in the same action, Thomas saw a Zero on the tail of one of his squadron mates and chased it off.

While he was busy protecting his comrade, another Zero got on his tail, shot out one motor and damaged another.

The hero flyer headed for home, but his disabled engine "conked out" and he plummeted into the ocean.

Thomas floated on his life raft about three hours before he was rescued and returned to his home base. He suffered injuries in the fast-moving action and received the Purple Heart.

The son of Mrs. Harriet A. Thomas, he was graduated from Middleboro High School, Hebron Academy, and Norwich University.

Boston College Gets $1000 K. of C. Gift

A gift of $1000 from the Massachusetts State Council, Knights of Columbus, was added to the treasury of Boston College today.

Judge Frank W. Tomasello, state deputy, said the contribution was made to help relieve the financial stress caused by discontinuance of the Army specialized training program and by the enlistment of most of the students in the armed forces.

TRAPPED LYNN PAIR SAVED BY FIREMEN

Trapped on the second floor of their burning home when the stairways were blocked by flames, a Lynn man and his wife were rescued today by firemen over ladders.

Edward Pence, 39, a General Electric worker, and his wife, Yvonne, 37, were asleep in their Vine st. home when Pence was aroused by smoke filtering into the bedroom. The couple's attempts to flee the burning three-family house by two stairways were halted by billows of smoke.

The ran, scantily clad, to the back piazza and Pence yelled for help.

Fireman Philip B. Murray carried Mrs. Pence down the ladder, and Pence followed.

The two other families, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kaplan and two daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kunian and two children, were away. Loss was estimated at $2000.

Tobin Urges Help In Legion 'Sign Up'

Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, endorsing the American Legion's "Sign-Up Day," set for tomorrow, today called citizens of Boston to sign petitions to Congress urging passage of the so-called veterans' Omnibus Bill.

Members of Legion posts have been asked by State Comdr. John L. Delay to canvass for signatures urging Congress to enact legislation, now pending, which will benefit discharged veterans.

National Comdr. Warren H. Atherton has designated tomorrow as "Sign-Up Day"

Mayor Tobin, giving the day his official approval, said:

"It is quite fitting and appropriate for the American Legion to set aside Wednesday, March 15th, the day on which that great organization observes its 25th birthday anniversary, as 'Sign-Up Day'.

"National Comdr. Warren H. Atherton and other Legion officials, authors of the so-called Omnibus Bill, are to be commended for their untiring efforts in supporting legislation which will benefit discharged service men and women.

"State Commander John L. Delay has called upon Legionnaires throughout the state to take part in the Silver Observance by urging their fellow citizens to sign "Petitions to Congress" which demand support of the "G. I. Bill of Rights."

"As Mayor of the City of Boston, I call upon all citizens to assist the Legion in making their observance a most successful one by signing the Congressional petitions which are being circulated by Legion posts throughout the city."

The Boston City Council adopted resolutions, co-sponsored by President John Kerrigan and Counciilor James Coffey, of East Boston, setting aside tomorrow as "Sign-Up Day."

More than 1000 telegrams will be sent to Washington tomorrow by American Legion posts throughout the state urging Bay State congressmen and Senators Walsh and Weeks to support the measure.

Evacuation Day Parade Cut Protested

Citizens of South Boston today voiced protests following the announcement that the Evacuation Day parade route has been shortened by a mile, cutting off both ends of the district.

The announcement was made by Chief Marshal John F. Walsh, who said he shortened the route because there will be many school children in the line of march and he figured the longer route was too strenuous.

It was revealed that 14 bands, including units from all branches of the armed forces, will participate in the Friday afternoon parade.

More than 400 police under Capt. Robert A. Lynch of the South Boston station will be on hand to handle the parade crowds and in addition there will be a mounted detail.

Indignation was also expressed over an announcement by Walsh that the 26th Infantry band of the State Guard and the Regiment, long an Evacuation Day feature, will not be in the parade because he could not afford to give them the banquet which has been tendered National Guard units in the past.

22 N. E. FLIERS WIN DFC, ONE AFTER DEATH

Lieut. Joseph E. Forest of South Main st., Concord, N. H., who sacrificed his life to crash his fighting plane into a Jap fighter in battle, was listed today among 22 New England airmen honored with the Distinguished Flying Cross.

All the heroes, including 11 from Massachusetts, received the award for exploits as members of the Army's Fifth Air Force in the Southwest Pacific area.

The New Hampshire flier's combat feat occurred last September, during an air battle over Finchhafen, New Guinea, to protect an Allied convoy, Army officials said.

Lieut. Owen F. Connolly

T/Sergt. Milton E. Hazel

Bay State winners of the DFC include 2d Lieut. Owen F. Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Connolly of Bedford st., Lexington, former Boston University student; and Tech. Sergt. Milton Hazel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hazel of Chestnut st., Saugus, who previously won fame for his escape from a South American jungle crash in 1942.

Other Massachusetts men awarded the coveted DFC were Lieut. Arthur T. Brent, Chatham Bars ave., Chatham; Lieut. Leroy H. Dewkett, Humphrey st., Great Barrington; Lieut Thomas F. Farrell, Gordon st., Somerville; Lieut. Mario A. Garuti, Pleasant st., Plymouth; Tech. Sergt. William J. Deveau, Colon st., Beverly; Staff Sergt. Loring D. Brosseau, Temple st., Adams; Staff Sergt. Navy Honors 4 Bay Staters

Comdr. John B. Fellows, Jr., U. S. N., 34, of Marion st., Fitchburg, destroyer skipper whose gunfire helped cover the landings of American forces on Rendova Island and New Georgia last summer, has been awarded the Silver Star medal, First Naval District headquarters announced today.

Lieut. Comdr. William E. Calder, III, U. S. N. R., 36, of Spring lane, Rockport, received the Air Medal for making an emergency landing in his transport plane in Brazil after the craft caught afire.

Official commendations have been given to Navy armed guard members for saving a merchant vessel from enemy aerial attack: Stanley Fred Kras, 23, gunner's mate 3/c, of Coolidge rd., Chicopee, who died Sept. 13, 1943, and Lorenzo J. Larochelle, 20 seaman 1/c, of Cross st., Uxbridge.

VETS APPEAL FOR SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

Scores of veterans of the present world conflict, men whose bodies are shattered but whose spirits remain unbroken, joined the appeal for support of the Red Cross today in bedside statements at the Chelsea Naval Hospital.

"Give to the 1944 Red Cross War Fund until it hurts, so you can stop the hurts of wounded veterans," urged Norman Seretsky, 20, aviation metalsmith who served on a blimp patrolling the coast before he sustained a broken neck in an accident.

"A PRETTY BLONDE"

Seretsky grinned at a blonde Red Cross girl who was holding a mirror at an angle over his eyes so he could see her and said, "Here's one thing the Red Cross has done for me—it gave me this mirror and a pretty blonde to look at!"

Then he told of entertainments put on by the Red Cross in his ward which he could see with his mirror, also gifts of cigarettes and candy and even a letter-writing service, kindnesses which made life worth living again.

George Baker Herr, 36, chief boatswain's mate, whose leg was in a cast, declared that some day he will walk again on that leg because of the Red Cross. "Blood plasma saved that leg and me along with it," Herr said.

SPECIAL REASON

John L. Levins of Pahokee, Fla., under treatment for a broken arm, said he had a special reason for being grateful to the Red Cross and related how the organization aided him, his two brothers, sister and step-mother when his father was drowned and all the family's belongings, including their home, were swept into the sea during the Florida hurricane of 1928.

Lively Fur

GARY, Ind., March 14 (AP)—Mrs. Otto Reising saw what appeared to be a beautiful fur on the bed in her room, rushed to her husband and cried "you got me a new furpiece, it's so lovely!" She led her husband and children into the bedroom to show them her discovery.

They saw the "fur" come to life, yawn, amble over the bed and through an open window and climb a tree.

"That," said Reising, who had protested that he hadn't bought his wife a present, "is a raccoon."

"That," said Mrs. Reising, "is the kind of fur I want. Maybe you better get a gun and go hunting."

Television Boom Seen

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Television will be a postwar billion-dollar industry, Thomas F. Joyce, executive of the Radio Corporation of America, said today in an address to the sales executives club of New York.

Joyce forecast that, within 10 years of full commercialization, television should be available to approximately 112,000,000 persons and said he believed it was a potential source of 4,600,000 jobs.

"Television properly used," he said, "has the power to make people want merchandise more than they do money, thus creating the necessary turnover of goods and services with which to create jobs.

Sister Kenny Asks Haste on Polio Film

Special to Boston Evening American

LOS ANGELES, March 14—If America is to reduce the pain and agony that goes with infantile paralysis, then the picture, "Elizabeth Kenny," must be filmed before summer and before another seasonal increase in the dread disease.

That was the declaration here today of Sister Elizabeth Kenny as she requested RKO-Radio Pictures either to put the picture in production or to sell it to some other studio.

"Medical men tell me it is necessary to produce this film before next fall," she declared. "I say—before next summer.

"Just this morning I received a letter from a naval doctor who wrote, 'It is too bad there has been delay in filming the Kenny picture, for I am sure it is very potent medium for education and interest stimulation.'

"Military medical men who have studied under me at Minneapolis have requested that my great contribution in early diagnosis which prevents, in a high percentage of cases progress of the disease, be a part of the moving picture.

"If it were possible for individuals to witness the agony endured by victims of infantile paralysis in the acute stage and if they knew that by early diagnosis this agony can be prevented, I am sure the great-hearted people of America would stand as one and see that this message is given at the earliest possible date."

Charles A. Koerner, vice-president in charge of production at RKO, has declared that the studio will make the film, "Elizabeth Kenny," as soon as the story is in shape to warrant production and as soon as Actress Rosalind Russell is available to play the leading role.

And Corp. Bernard C. Mullen, of 148 Parker st., Manchester, N. H., whose father, John B., was a state representative.

I find that, although the home folks of these soldiers have been exceedingly faithful about mailing parcels to their men, some of the contents are pretty impractical.

One soldier showed me a patent pillow, shaped like a small horse collar, which some enterprising U. S. manufacturer was selling gullible folk, as "the perfect headrest for foxholes." Others have received electric razors and expensive toilet kits.

Eats Main Desire

Maybe it was Pvt. Honore T. Veilleux of 1353 Elm st., Manchester (a former Western Union messenger) who said, "Tell 'em not to send anything we can't eat" —which gives the gist of the soldier's needs.

For candy is not plentiful in the rural P-exs (post exchanges) of Britain, and the usual ration is one chocolate bar a week.

Gum is scarce, too, and a single, five-stick package, is allowed every seven days—a meagre supply which causes the men to chaw the same tiny cud over and over. Cigarettes are limited to seven packs a week. Cookies—hard, semi-sweet little biscuits, are much prized, and hard to get.

On the whole the postal authorities have done a splendid job in getting packages and mail through—a vital morale factor. So the men get their parcels with reasonable regularity. Soldiers like Pfc. Thomas F. Lundeville, who lived at the YMCA in Lowell, and sold fish for William J. Hoare. And Pvt. Sulo A. Wiklund of Highland st., Lunenburg (near Fitchburg), an ex-apple farmer, who used to ship his Mckintosh Reds to Faneuil Hall.

And Pfc. Felix Wrobleski of 6 Fowler st., Westfield, a former Ranger (Commando) who has grown an imposing mustache.

And Pfc. Felix Wrobleski of 86 Logan st., Warwick, whose brother Gilbert spent a five-day furlough with him recently. And Corp. Pete W. Cesca of 42 Main st., Danbury, an ex-milkman. And Pvt. Lawrence E. Cave of Spring st., Florence, a former dairy farmer.

And Sergt. Ralph W. Morton of 292½ South st., Northampton, a one-time crane operator for Link Belt Co. And Pvt. Robert H. Withington of Canaan, N. H., a wool worker. And Pfc. Tony T. Guerri of 37 Elmwood st., Springfield, whose mother and sister live in occupied Italy (Loreto on the Adriatic).

And Pfc. John Zanetti of 926 Columbus ave., Springfield, a former machinist for Van Norman Tool Co., who is company radioman, and totes a field instrument that weighs 38 pounds.

Adaptable Cusses

And Pfc. Frank G. Schmecker of 24 Naugatuck ave., Sheldon, Ct., a first scout, who worked for American Brass. And Pvt. Jack W. Conway of 78 Sassafras st., Providence, who used to work in the refreshment concessions at Fenway Park.

And Pfc. Sam H. Rigers of 985 Eddy st., Providence. And Pvt. William D. Zubrick of 34 Woodside ave., Seymour, Ct., a sniper who used to hunt a lot, and says he "can't miss at 400 yards.

It is curious how often one encounters bomb ruins in the British smaller towns, a gaping shell of a building, amid the serenity of the village or house, where some Luftwaffe bombardier jettisoned his frightful freight after being chased away from London.

There was such a house in the town where I stopped today, a blasted husk where U. S. soldiers had shored up the walls, and sealed the crevices to make a sort of club room.

The nave of the nearby 15th century church had been ruined by the bomb's blast too, but its ancient stones had been mended with fresh masonry, and its stained glass had been replaced by plain windows. U. S. soldiers had contributed most of the work in their spare time, thereby earning the gratitude of the withered pastor, who is rising 85.

In fact, the U. S. soldier has been unstinting of his time and labor in many of these down country villages, where he has made his home. He's an adaptable cuss.

Types like Tech. Sergt. Joe R. LeMay of 12½ Cherry st., Fitchburg, who used to be a tank test driver, and is now an artillery mechanic. And Pfc. Robert G. Cahill of 7 Willis st., Auburn. And Corp. Joe Cozza of 50 Division st., Danbury, a veteran of Morocco.

And Sergt. Andrew B. Chonka of 133 Jackson ave., Strafford, Ct., a tank commander. And Staff Sergt. Rockford G. Gibbons of 8 Belleview pl., Middletown, Ct., who was a radio salesman for G. V. Reed.

And Corp. William F. Carroll of 64 Taylor st., Holyoke, a graduate of the Holy Rosary School, of which Fr. McGrath is head. And Corp. Bruno Giodano of 316 Newell st., Pittsfield, who used to sell Boston Americans as a newsboy, and worked for the Salvati Grocery Store. And Pvt. Mervin Hardy of 869 Holmes rd., Pittsfield, a truck driver who now drives a tank.

And Corp. Stanley Mastelerz of 37 Quebec st., Indian Orchard, whose brothers Mitchell and John, are also in the Army. And Corp. Henry F. Sydlo of 16 Tremont st., Chicopee, a basketball player, who worked for General Baking.

And Corp. Joe F. Faretra of 51 Tremont st., Concord, an ex-printer for Rumford Press. And Sergt. Saul Levine of 18 Spring st., Boston, who worked for the Red Cross Mattress Co., and belonged to the West End House, of which Jack Burns is director.

And Pvt. Jose A. Maciel of 54 Acushnet st., New Bedford, who want: to go back to his native Azores after the war. And Pvt. Jack Kleger of 70 Orchard st., New Bedford, the former manager of a rayon mill, whose company is paying his salary while he remains in service. And Staff Sergt. Wilfred B. Childs of 20 Atherton st., Ayer, an ex-stock exchange sales clerk.

Souring the Nation's Sugar Program

THERE ARE many strange contraditions to puzzle the citizen and business man in the Government's simultaneous appeal for more food prodution and the Government's eccentric and often wilful mishandling of agricultural affairs.

Take, for example, the sugar beet industry in California.

Washington says we need more fod, more industrial alcohol, more fodder for cattle, all of whh are produced by the acreage California beet growers have nder cultivation.

But Washington will not adjust prie ceilings on beet sugar so that the grower can at least breaeven, not to speak of making a profit.

And Washington will not tell the gnwer in time what the required production for the year shallbe.

In fact, Washington apparently thinks that beets grow and are processed in obedience to goverment decrees and not to the inexorable rhythm of nature.

The result is that a vast and valuable industry with an investment of $64,000,000 in land, machinery and factories is in a fair way to being seriously damaged, if not destroyed.

Each acre of sugar beets produces 5000 pounds of food and by-products.

California's potential is 160,000 acres in normal times.

In 1942, however, 172,000 acres were planted and harvested, but owing to Government procrastination, fumbling and price juggling this acreage decreased in 1943 to 70,000.

This makes a difference of 500,000,000 pounds less in 1943 than in 1942.

THE GOVERNMENT CANNOT PLEAD IGNORANCE, OR LACK OF TIMELY WARNING.

THE SUGAR GROWERS HAVE SENT DELEGATIONS TO WASHINGTON, THEY HAVE TRIED TO ENLIST THE HELP OF CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMEN, THEY HAVE VAINLY PLEADED WITH ADMINISTRATION BUREAUS FOR STATEMENTS OF THEIR ANNUAL SUGAR PROGRAM.

NOTHING HAPPENED UNTIL FEBRUARY OF THIS YEAR, WHEN SUDDENLY THE COMMERCIAL CREDIT CORPORATION NOTIFIED THE GROWERS THEY SHOULD PRODUCE TO TOP LEVEL IN 1944.

No crop of such dimensions can be ordered up on the spur of the moment. Land cannot be prepared, labor contracted, processing planned, acreage planted, or seed sprouted simply at a bureaucratic word of command. Neither will the need for sugar or fodder or alcohol or other by-products abate at the bidding of a Government directive.

The California sugar industry is a great national asset.

Washington should recognize this and act upon the realization, before the people—unfortunately not the Government—suffer the serious consequences.

The Road to Prosperity

"IT IS THE JOB of Government to devise rules of the road, but not to tell the driver where he must travel," says the annual report of the Truman Committee of the United States Senate, just made public.

No better definition of the fundamental principle on which this government should operate, and on which it did operate for 150 years, has been given to us recently.

It is an admonition most necessary now when so many crackpot schemes are afloat in Washington that tell Americans which WAY they must go.

The objective of these "plans" is mainly Socialistic.

Under State-Socialism the government is the regulator, the driver and the road.

The report of the Committee is constructive in that it, in the main, lays stress on the necessity of—

1. A speedy return to the free enterprise system.

2. The relinquishment as soon as feasible of war restraints on our great industrial establishments.

3. The need for full "corporate competition" after the war.

4. The use of government-owned war plants for civilian production as soon as this can be implemented.

5. Drastic condemnation of the paternalistic form of government in these words:

"The paternalistic attitude is based upon the false assumption by those adopting it that they have a higher degree of patriotism than the typical citizen. Such an attitude is an insult to the patriotism and intelligence of the American people."

The Truman report therefore stands firmly on the tried-and-true American system of trusting our American citizenry to lead the country to broader and greater achievements.

The tremendous, the all-important role of American free enterprise in this war is told to the public in these words:

"Even in wartime it was the flow of private initiative that made possible the success of the war program. This flow must be encouraged in the future."

No less a Totalitarian than Marshal Stalin might have signed that, for it was he, the one man in the world who has completely abolished private productive enterprise, who told President Roosevelt at the Teheran conference:

"IT IS AMERICAN PRODUCTION THAT HAS WON THE WAR."

The words of his mouth
Were smoother than butter
But war was in his heart.
—PSALMS LV 21.

THIS seems to be an excellent brief description of the actions of those Jap diplomats in Washington just before Pearl Harbor . . . U. S. Army official, stationed on the home front, says too much about home should not be written in letters to fighting men. That, says he, will make them homesick and lower their morale. This old boy doesn't seem to know much about soldiers. Thinking of home is what makes a soldier fighting mad. He wants to get back home as soon as he can and blames the enemy for delaying his return trip. This is especially true of Americans. In World War I what were the men of the A. E. F. shouting just before and during their furious assault that drove the astonished Germans back to Berlin? Why, sir, our lads were shouting: "Heaven, hell or Hoboken by Christmas!"

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Congressman suggests a 50 per cent increase in pay be given all men in the armed forces while on combat duty. This legislator has the right idea. Certainly a man fighting, suffering and risking his life in the jungles of the Pacific and on the beachheads of Europe should be paid as much as a welder in a war plant . . . The We-Wanna-Get-Married Club of Pittsburgh, Pa., has adopted as its official song the touching ditty "There Must Be Someone for Me" . . . A major league baseball player has been found guilty of obtaining a large extra gasoline allowance by fraud. This man is classified 1A but has apparently been deferred. He should be inducted into the Army at once. Also, so, it will be interesting to note what action the "czar" of baseball Judge Landis takes as to this man.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q. Have you any other readers in Willits, Cal.? A. One regular; one occasional. The regular is Mrs. C. S. Howard. Occasional is Mr. C. S. Howard who only reads this column when I mention Seabiscuit . . . Q. Who are your favorites in the various lines of endeavor in contemporary life? My husband says his opinions and yours coincide in all things and I want to check. A. Question covers too much territory. However will name some of those I greatly admire. Favorite general — Eisenhower. Admiral—Halsey. Washingtonian—Bernard Baruch. Ballplayer—Bill Dickey. Comedian—Jimmy Durante. Jockey—George Woolf. Novelist—J. P. Marquand. Actress — stage — Judith Evelyn. Screen — Greer Garson. Singing film actress—Jeanette MacDonald. Film comedienne — Cass Daley. Stage comedienne—Ethel Merman. Stage comedian — Bobby Clark. Dramatic critic—George Jean Nathan. Cafe singer — Tommy Lyman. Film director — Ernst Lubitsch.

TESTS: My understanding is blood tests for paternity are not infallible. If wrong I hope some man of science will correct me. It is a point that should be made clear to the public. If a belief is established these tests are infallible jealous or suspicious husbands will be demanding they be used to determine whether they are really the fathers of their children. Lawyers will be using them in divorce cases.

CONTEMPORARY SAYS: "Highway speeds of 100 miles an hour are predicted for 30 years from now." This old boy must have been doing a Rip Van Winkle. There are automobiles right now that can do 100 miles an hour. In the past seven years I have seen many a car doing between 90 and 100 miles an hour. Of course, the current cars are not built to maintain that speed for a long distance. Cars that tried to do 80 and 90 miles an hour for the length of the Pennsylvania turnpike have broken down on many occasions.

PASSING BY: Perry Como. Sensationally successful baritone. He is from Youngstown, O., which city also gave the world "Bonesetter" Reese and the Warner Brothers.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, Monday—I want to go back now to our first day in Puerto Rico. The flight from Jamaica took us over the islands of Haiti and Santo Domingo, which looked beautiful and wild from the air. On our arrival in San Juan, I could see many changes, beginning with the new airfield which was not here when I landed by Pan-American in a Flying Boat ten years ago. The Governor and Mrs. Tugwell and the head military officials met us.

The slums along the waterfront, which filled me with horror the last time, were not to be seen, but I was told that they had just moved a little farther away. They had not disappeared.

* * *

THE HOUSING SITUATION is almost as bad as ever, according to the Governor. Living costs have risen about 50 per cent, and the head of one of the political parties told me that rice, which used to be five cents a pound, is now ten cents a pound.

The chancellor of the university, Senor Benitez, dined with the Governor and Mrs. Tugwell, and he told me the university had grown very considerably in the past ten years.

* * *

THE GOVERNOR SAID THEY had kept everything quiet about my arrival, but nevertheless everybody seemed to know I was there.

We left our things at the governor's house and started out almost immediately with Gen. Shedd. He asked me to review with him a regiment of Puerto Rican troops, who seemed to me to march very smartly in spite of their few weeks of training.

Then we went to the enlisted men's new recreation building. It is built right on the cliff looking across the ocean. There are some good bowling alleys, a little music room, a writing room upstairs and a big room for games, with a sundeck outside, which I am sure will be filled on pleasant evenings.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 14—While Jennifer Jones rests at Palm Springs with her two sons (I almost said "rests on her honors" after winning 1943's best actress Oscar) David Selznick is readying her next picture.

It's to be Robert Nathan's "Portrait of Jenny," a fantasy which the author terms "An Experiment in Time." It might also be added, in less high falutin' language that "Jenny" is a charming story and although it will need rewriting it should be good for the Jones girl.

Jennifer Jones

I still say Jennifer needs extra special care in her story selections, even if the industry did vote her the best actress of 1943, her histrionics range has yet to be tested. "Bernadette" was a natural for her. Meanwhile, there's a chance she may do a picture for 20th Century-Fox before starting "The Portrait of Jenny" for David.

BECAUSE NO mere words can explain the pain caused to civilized people by the destruction of ancient shrines such as the 1400-year-old abbey of Monte Cassino in Italy, the Army has just given Lester Cowan permission to present its side of the incident. The shelling and bombing of the famous monastery will be a sequence in "Here Is Your War." I think it a wise move indeed that the Army Intelligence has supplied Cowan with data and motion pictures of the fighting at Monte Cassino, proving that American troops were under orders not to fire on the abbey until the Nazis began using it for observation and artillery.

★ ★ ★

THE LAST MOVIE for Fred MacMurray at Paramount before he hangs up his hat and brings his makeup box to 20th is "Murder Farm." Veronica Lake was set for the Zany melodramatic comedy, with George Marshall directing, but it seems something happened. Veronica kicked up her heels and was a naughty girl, so now Susan Hayward has been put into the role. There is no time for arguments because the picture has to be made pronto so Fred can start his 20th assignment.

★ ★ ★

"ARSENIC AND OLD LACE," which started as a perfectly serious murder melodrama and then turned into one of the top comedies of the year, has inspired Russel Crouse and Howard Lindsey to write another on the same order. This, too, is intended for Boris Karloff, who goes East when he finishes his two-picture deal at Universal, to discuss the play with the authors.

★ ★ ★

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: That was Sunny Skoda, munitions heiress, dining with Howard Hughes the other eve. At the same place were Lois Andrews and Al Herd, automobile dealer, chatting at a table for two; Elsa Lanchester is reading the script of "The Suspect" and may play the movie wife opposite her real-life husband, Charles Laughton; Lieut. Bob Taplinger, back in town, was Margaret Hayes' dinner companion; Dorothy Lamour is denying the baby rumors; Bing Crosby has headed for his Nevada ranch for a rest; Red Skelton is cabling Muriel Morris in Mexico City like mad. He'd like to make up before he goes in the Army; Tom Brown is reported on duty overseas; Lois Collier, formerly wed to Robert Duncan, Bank of America official, will marry Bob Oakley, agent, when her divorce is final; Blossom Seeley and Benny Fields, who had been in Hollywood working in "The Minstrel Man," celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary last week; Ronald Graham, who appeared with Constance Moore in "By Jupiter," gets a job opposite Zorina in "Dream With Music".

Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, March 14—One of Broadway's best-loved landmarks—a busy, brown, rather shabby restaurant in the core of the theatrical district is 17 years old this week, and still one of the biggest hits the stem has ever known. Sardi's is the name. Most of the confirmed people of the theater "live" there.

Ask Renee Carroll, the chatty copper-haired hat check girl in the little cubicle where John Golden's overcoat hangs on the hook next to Kenny Baker's. Renee started work at Sardi's the day it opened—it was her birthday, she remembers—and at Sardi's she became the world's most famous hat check girl. Broadway columnists wrote about her, she bent a sympathetic ear to the joys and woes of the town's most glamorous theatrical figures, she became an author, a play "angel," and an actress—but she never left Sardi's. Anything else she did was always a sideline, somehow a less fascinating sideline. She has a great many memories. Some she wrote into her book. Some she will have to put in another book.

★ ★ ★

A cartoonist named Alex Gard began drawing his famous Sardi caricatures—Renee refers to them as "Gard's Chosen People"—and now there are more than 400 of them, all signed by the subjects, covering the Sardi walls. None of them are flattering, most of them are frightening. The most horrifying one is Jed Harris's; he looks like an unshaven anteater. Gard's first caricature was of Katharine Cornell, and she objected because he drew her smoking a cigarette. (That was years ago, remember.) The offending cubeb was erased, and the First Lady of Theater permitted it to be hung over the spaghetti Caruso and steaming welsh rarebits.

Renee knows everyone from Mrs. Roosevelt to the ticket taker at any theater you want to name. Most of her customers are chummy and loyal.

Star Shine

By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, March 14—Paul Lukas, who won the Oscar for the best performance, is a great Hollywood story.

This wasn't the only time he traveled the road back. He was through in pictures when the talkies came in. Paramount offered to buy back his contract. He asked for a chance to learn English. Within eight months he was speaking the language well enough to continue his movie career and become a star.

Paul Lukas

Then followed a fine career in the talkies, but soon he found it difficult to get leading roles, then difficult to get good roles. He was now through in talkies.

He turned to Broadway and the stage and got the leading role in "Watch on the Rhine."

It was this play on Broadway that put him again on the road back. He has just finished work in "Address Unknown," is about to start work in "Manhattan Fury," but his attitude toward his recent success is best expressed by the title of his current picture, "Uncertain Glory."

His real name is Lukacs. The studio made him drop the "c" because the name spelled that way was too difficult to pronounce.

He was an aviator during the World War. Before that he attended the Austrian Military School. He started his stage career in 1915 while he was in the aviation corps—in shows for soldiers. He acted for nine years at the Comedy Theater in Budapest, and also worked in Vienna in Max Reinhardt's company.

★ ★ ★

HE WAS BORN in a train arriving at the Budapest station on May 26, 1887. When introduced to a woman, either in his apartment or dressing room, he always kisses her hand.

When he was a leading man in Budapest, he spent almost his entire salary for champagne. It is still his favorite drink. This drink also helped him win the affections of a young lady, Gizella Benes. Today she is Mrs. Paul Lukas. He calls her Daisy.

He likes to play practical jokes. His favorite is to accuse a guest of insulting his wife at the dinner table. The first time he did it, however, Daisy didn't know it was a gag.

★ ★ ★

HE SMOKES a pipe, cigars and cigarettes. He always wears a small gold amulet hung on a fine gold chain around his neck. He'll read any book if someone tells him it's good.

He takes his work seriously. He comes on the set prepared, knowing his lines. He claims he does not argue with a director, but often he has definite ideas about how a part should be played and he will express himself. It goes, almost without saying, that his favorite playwright is Lillian Hellman and his favorite director, Herman Shumlin.

"Why, those yellow McCords! Gittin' outsiders to do their feudin'!"

Deal's Arabian Nights

By George E. Sokolsky

THE ARABIAN OIL PLOT is not an isolated scheme nor is it merely a pipeline for the supply of oil for our armed forces, nor is it strictly an attempt of the administration to establish an oil TVA, nor is it a matter of military necessity. It is perhaps somewhat of all of these and yet no one cause, excuse or argument explains that curious intrigue which started with the silent and secret wanderings through desert and oasis of the delightful General Pat Hurley, Secretary of War in Herbert Hoover's cabinet and now an Americanized Lawrence of Arabia who arranges destiny after the fashion of Harun-Al-Rashid whose munificence was known in all the lands and seas of his day.

The real point of the matter is that American gold is setting up a powerful Arab family in the Arabian desert, providing Ibn-Saud with funds out of the U. S. Treasury, to be fought over when the old chieftain dies, by his many sons of many wives in true Arab fashion. There is nothing in this of four freedoms or any freedoms nor of collective security under the Atlantic Charter nor even loyalty to our Ally, Great Britain or regard for American treaty obligations toward recognition of a Jewish Palestine.

It is a deal consummated in the blind alleys of an Arabian night which takes this country straight into the kind of power politics that used to be called dollar diplomacy and gained for us the opprobrious nickname, Gringo, in the countries where it was practised. In Arabia, we are buying trouble with gold and paying through the nose.

AND IN THIS matter appears a new pattern of policy. If the government of the United States is to finance weak and decaying states, accepting as compensation an American government-owned economic activity within that country, then this country must be prepared for a constantly expanding imperialism, accompanied by wars and civil wars and particularly by the use of American armed forces for the suppression of uprisings on the part of oppressed peoples against the tyranny of our native partners.

This pattern of imperialism is not new in the world but it has not been practised, except in isolated instances in Mexico and Central America, by this country. And the American people never liked it. If pursued globally, its effects upon the United States cannot but lead to political and economic disaster. It is the good neighbor policy in reverse.

For instance, who is to police the pipeline in Araby—this American government-owned pipeline, symbol of our national honor and dignity? If a Standard Oil installation in China is blown up in civil war, that is a private matter between the company and the Chinese government for damages. The State Department may or may not intervene depending upon circumstance and policy. The point is that the tank in, let us say, Pootung, is private property and no national honor is involved in its destruction.

★ ★ ★

THE GOVERNMENT-OWNED pipeline and government-owned installations and refineries which are bound to follow as a practical matter, are part of the government of the United States—as much a part as a battleship or an embassy or the White House itself. Are we to maintain permanently an American armed force in Arabia to protect it? Shall we build American cities, settlements, walled fortresses flying our flag in the desert region to house our people there and their servants and workers? Shall we fight Bedouin gangs that will learn—fast enough, I fear—how to tap the pipeline for hot oil, a process not unknown in this country? Shall we establish in Arabia all the imperialistic procedures and evils against which we are apparently—or am I wrong—fighting this war?

present in Ulster and with certain plans of their operations."

"I prefer to confine my statement in general terms today," Churchill replied. "All the necessary measures within the limits which I have described will, of course, be taken as they are deemed necessary."

Asked whether the Dominions had been consulted, Churchill observed, "complete unity of thought prevails throughout the British Commonwealth as far as I am aware."

Asked if "it would not be possible in any decision for further approaches to Eire to suggest that if normal relations should be operated the question of partition would be the subject of discussion when peace came" (meaning whether Britain would agree to re-open the question of Irish union), Churchill replied:

"I hardly can think of a more ill-conceived approach to the unity of Ireland."

ACTION EXPECTED IN EIRE

A high authority had expressed the conviction in Dublin last night the Allies would soon close the border between neutral Eire and Northern Ireland as a natural sequel to the ban on traffic across the Irish Sea.

An Associated Press dispatch from Dublin said that any hopes the Irish might have that the decision on closing the border might be left to the Belfast (Ulster) government were unfounded. It was believed in Dublin, however, that there would be no immediate formal sanctions against Eire by the Allies, the dispatch added.

Suspension of cross-border communications would affect about 1,250,000 yearly trips, the Dublin dispatch estimated, while the British-Irish travel ban involves about 300,000 trips.

The dispatch said that although there was no likelihood of a stoppage of supplies to Eire, the Allies' needs for their invasion army might result in a sharp curtailment of gasoline, coal, wheat, sugar, newsprint and other shipments.

Draft Dodging Just Doesn't Pay

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—A roundup of draft delinquents netted a man who, the FBI said, had:

Registered under a false name, failed to return a questionnaire, failed to appear for a physical examination, neglected to report for induction and carried no registration card.

He said his efforts to dodge the law gave him gray hair, stomach trouble and nervous disorders.

SANTA FE, N. M., March 14 (AP)—Four brothers who fled to timberlands, sleeping in caves and living for four months mostly on venison to evade the draft were sentenced to five years' imprisonment each by U. S. District Judge Colin Neblett here.

Lose Their Shirts In Fall River Fire

FALL RIVER, March 14—Hundreds of Fall River residents lost their shirts today when a $25,000 fire razed the block-long Favorite Laundry, 410 Tihrd st.

Several hundred more persons in the thickly settled tenement area fled to the street as firemen sent up walls of water to protect their homes.

Patrolman Roland R. Connell discovered the fire at 3:0 a. m. Gaining impetus from cleaning fluids and other combustible materials, flames broke thrigh the one-story laundry's roof as the first apparatus arrived.

A second alarm was ounded.

Oratory Prelims Deadline Nears

Less than eight school days remain in which preliminary contests may be held in Boston schools and colleges, to select winners to represent them in the local Boston eliminations of the thrilling John Paul Jones oratorical contest, a nation-wide competition sponsored by the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser and other Hearst newspapers.

Names of the winners in each individual school contest must be submitted to the Record-American-Advertiser Contest Editor by March 24, but with time so short it is urged that these names are filed before that date.

One representative from each parochial and public Boston high school, and one from each of the participating Boston colleges, will give his oration for his schoolmates.

Seeking to imprint the memory of our country's first and most outstanding naval hero firmly in the minds of modern youth, glittering war bond prizes are offered to those who come out on top.

The color and courage of the era of our country's birth vividly returns when the exploits of John Paul Jones are re-read and studied.

John Paul Jones demanded and received respect for the Continental flag which he not only respected but loved.

The master of an American merchantman, for instance, sought to flout the flag of the Ariel at Groix and L'Oruent before the eyes of French officers, as well as Jones.

He tried to do so in defiance of explicit naval regulations, and worse, sought to justify himself by presumptuous criticism of Jones.

Jones was enraged. When repeated signalling from the Ariel brought only a sloppy compliance, Jones sent two boat loads of armed men at the merchantman. The insolent skipper speedily dipped his colors.

Boston preliminaries will be held March 31, in Faneuil Hall. Those winners will compete in the Eastern zone finals in New York on April 13, and if eligible, will enter the national finals in New York on Tuesday, April 18.

JVA Girls Ready To Aid Family

Girls of the Junior Victory Army in high schools and colleges will provide a large share of the labor needed this summer to produce food on Massachusetts farms.

This is indicated in letters and reports from JVA corps and from Miss Beatrice Billings of Mass. State College, state supervisor of the Women's Land Army.

College girls seem to be the best source of labor aside from the regular summer farm workers who reside in the communities.

This is because each girl is given a physical checkup by the college doctor before she is permitted to do farm work and because the girls feel that their food production is a real contribution to the war effort.

Farmers are now providing the colleges and high schools with number of workers needed, dates for starting and ending the summer, type of work to be done, number of hours, average wage and plans for housing.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to Junior Victory Army Headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well-wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Wednesday's Daily Record.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

65,000 British Miners Return

LONDON, March 14 (AP) — Some 65,000 of Britain's 100,000 striking coal miners had returned to work up to early afternoon, Alf Davies, vice-president of the South Wales Miners Federation, announced.

"The situation is improving," he added.

Prime Minister Churchill told Commons it would be unwise for him to make a statement and that he would deprecate any debate until a settlement had been effected.

Roberts Bridal

By BETTY ALDEN

ACCORDING to tradition debutante Bettie Roberts of Winchester will soon be sporting a diamond. She caught the bouquet of butterfly orchids and roses which her sister Jean tossed from the stair way at the latter's wedding reception Saturday.

Jean and her bridegroom, Lieut. William E. Simmons, USA, of Baltimore, were one of the handsomest bridal couples society has seen in many a moon. Jean won the title of "prettiest girl on the North Shore" in the summer of 1940 and Bill was crowned "king" of the Wellesley Carnival during his undergraduate days at Harvard.

Bill, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Simmons of Baltimore and brother of Lieut. Edward B. Simmons who married Peggy Hardwick of Brookline, has taken his bride to Charleston, S. C., for their honeymoon. Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roberts of Winchester.

As maid of honor Bettie headed a group of attractive bridesmaids, including Ann Clarke, Becky Farnsworth, Louise Barr and Mrs. William H. Harris, Jr., all dressed in springlike blue marquisette with pompadour headdresses of matching blue and bouquets of yellow roses.

Bridesmaid Ann Clarke is not only holding down a full time war job in Cambridge but also rehearsing after hours for four numbers in the Vincent show which goes on the boards a week from Thursday in John Hancock Hall.

AND SPEAKING of working gals, Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Jr., (Jean Halladay) of Cambridge, has a busy schedule. She is her own "cook and bottle washer," teaches at nursery school five days a week and in her spare time helps to run the Officers' Wives Club at the Y. W. C. A., and is doing all she can to help with the business end of running the Vincent revue.

UNIFORMS of Uncle Sam's feminine armed services will be much in evidence at the Junior League this evening when the board of managers gives a buffet supper for Capt. Frances Keegan Marquis, WAC, and Lieut. Harriet F. Parker, WAVE. After dinner both girls will speak and show movies of their sister WACS and WAVES at work and recreation.

League members on hand to meet Capt. Marquis who recently returned from North Africa where she worked at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters, will be Mrs. Norman Hoffman, Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard, Mrs. Gordon Donald, Mrs. A. Nathaniel Pierce, Mrs. Walter Badger, Mrs. Harold Gee, Mrs. David L. Forbes, Mrs. J. Craig Huff, Jr., Mrs. Gregory Cook and many more.

Capt. Elizabeth Stearns, League member and newly appointed WAC staff director at the 1st Service Command, will have as guests Capt. Marjorie Chapman, Capt. Anne B. Cowan, Capt. Virginia K. Norman, Lieut. Rose L. Wagner, Mrs. Edith B. Stearns and Mrs. Carl Hauers.

ROUND AND ABOUT — Mrs. William B. Clift, Jr., and her brother, Pierce Pearmain, enjoying the Sunday afternoon cocktail concert at the Copley-Plaza. And at the next table Mrs. Mary Curley Donnelly entertaining her brother, Lieut. (jg) George Curley, Miss Rita Connolly and Jack Murphy, USNR. Mary topped her black dress with a lynx jacket and her guest also wore black with jaunty ostrich quills on her hat.

Mrs. Arthur Cushing is hard at work on plans to give a St. Patrick's Day luncheon at her home in Chestnut Hill to honor the 30 ladies of the Avery Lecture committee of which she is co-chairman with Mrs. Samuel Eliot. And she laughingly says: "It will have to be a ration-free menu, for that many guests."

Mr. and Mrs. Olney S. Morrill will make their home in Wellesley following a short honeymoon trip. They were married by Rev. Gordon B. Wadhams in the Church of the Resurrection, New York, Saturday. Mrs. Morrill is the former Lucia Bryant of Torrington, Ct., a graduate of Bennett School and a student of sculpture. Mr. Morrill, vice-president of a Boston bank, graduated from Dartmouth and Amos Tuck School of Administration and Finance.

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

NOW is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the loose, stabbing victim after victim with its deadly dagger of pain. If you are one of these unfortunate people, here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from nagging arthritis pains in back, knees, shoulders and hands, never suspect that these pains may be caused, in some cases, by excessive acids within the body.

As a dietary aid in the faster neutralization of these excessive acids which in turn may tend to bring speedier pain relief to this extent, Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets were devised by a well-known food nutritionist. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, two minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritis sufferers. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets are free from all harmful chemical drugs. They positively do not contain injurious ingredients of any kind.

CUT OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT and present it with $1.96 at any Nature Food Centres Store to get your Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets. Take them as directed on the label and if they do not bring soothing relief to your aching joints and muscles faster than any other dietary aid you have ever used, THE TRIAL IS FREE! Just return the bottle and get your money back. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets cost only a few cents a day to use. 250 Tablet Bottles—$1.95. (500 Tablet Economy Size $3.25). Mail orders sent postpaid. They are sold only at Sherry Onion Soup! Really something!

With this added touch of Sherry wine, onion soup becomes royal fare!

RECIPE: Slice 6 medium onions thin, and saute in 4 tbsps. oil until transparent. Add 5 cups meat stock, or 5 cups water and 6 bouillon cubes. Cover, simmer until onions are tender. Add ½ cup Sherry wine. Pepper and salt. Heat to boiling. Pour into individual casseroles or one large one; float pieces of toast on top; sprinkle with grated Parmesan-type cheese; and bake in hot oven (450° F.) until cheese browns lightly. Serves 6.

Serve Sherry with this soup. Glasses of Sherry wine are pleasant to serve with this or any other soup. Keep a bottle of Sherry handy. It's the aperitif wine for all occasions. See your wine dealer today. Wine Advisory Board, San Francisco 5.

MARCH COLDS OFTEN MEAN RESISTANCE IS LOW!

Many people suffer from colds in March because they are not getting enough vitamin A needed for strong resistance to colds and coughs due to colds. If you are not getting all the vitamin A you need take Father John's Medicine which supplies vitamin A to help build resistance. It also gives quick relief of coughs due to colds by its soothing effect on the throat.

BILLIE BURKE IN NEW HIT

By PEGGY DOYLE

Billie Burke, ex-Follies beauty who made a fabulous career out of being a lower-case follies girl in pictures, is certain to captivate Broadway all over again.

As the lady of the first part in "Mrs. January & Mr. Ex," she proved delightfully diverting to a houseful of Wilbur first-nighters last night as well as to Frank Craven's spare, soft-spoken ex-President.

The new Zoe Akins comedy, which bears slight resemblance to its author's stage successes, "The Old Maid" or "The Greeks Had a Word For It," is lighter than air and the perfect vehicle for Miss Burke's feathery anticing between nonsense and 14-carat horse sense. Elliott Nugent, that triple-threat man who'll write, direct and/or act at the drop of a dotted line and who is even now co-starring with Margaret Sullavan in the Broadway stage hit, the Nugent-directed "Voice of the Turtle," staged "Mrs. J." Wouldn't you know! Under his deft direction, it is an escapist's perfect field-day, losing its bounce only in the second act when Mrs. J's incredible children grab the ball from her and don't know what to do with it.

* * *

Mama is all, as a matter of Pennsylvania Dutch fact, and when she isn't cooking with laughing-gas Miss Akins' bright play dims. There is no "Turtling" in this script, no Sullivan and Nugent sharing of "sides" in this one. It is frankly a platinum setting for the Adrian-gowned Miss Burke's Kohinoor performance of a charming if birdbrained lady who is very, very rich, making like she is in reduced circumstances against the dawn of the twentieth century's revolution.

Mr. Craven, who will always be inextricably associated with the garrulous, philosophic spokesman of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," has been shorter to Coolidge rations in his current acting assignment. In the first act, it appeared to baffle him almost as much as it did us but subsequently the January thaw set in, in a manner of speaking, and he unlaxed and we enjoyed him.

Mr. Craven's Mr. Ex is a former President of the United States who has retired to the country to write and enjoy his widowership in half of his two-family house until Mrs. January takes over the other half, retinue of servants, the offspring of three marriages, 16 trunks and all.

"Mrs. January & Mr. Ex" is light as the feather in Billie Burke's bonnet but, Republican or 16-year-termer, you'll chuckle gleefully over some of the fat and funny typewriting in Miss Akins' topical tweek at Uncle Sam's chinwhiskers.

Sausage Dinner

By MARTHA LEE

PORK SAUSAGE might be called "the breakfast meat that came to dinner." It was hardly plausible that a meat with such good flavor would long be limited to one mealtime. True, that spicy sausage aroma is tempting in the early morning, but it is just as appealing other times of day. Luncheon and supper dishes featuring pork sausages are as popular now as the original "breakfast sausage and eggs" combination.

For dinner, bulk pork sausage can be combined with bread crumbs and milk for a delicious meat loaf. Or it may be made into little balls and served with spaghetti.

TO COOK PORK SAUSAGE

There are two steps in the usual procedure for cooking pork sausage links or patties. The sausage is started in a cold frying pan with a little water and simmered until the water evaporates. A good rule to remember is—two tablespoons of water for each pound of sausage. This step is important because it keep the sausages plump and juicy and assures that they will be well done.

Next, the sausages are browned. This may be done in the same frying pan or it may be done in the oven, depending upon the recipe used. The browning brings out the delicious pork sausage flavor and makes an attractive appearance.

DINNER MENU

Pork Sausage Jumbles
Hashed Brown Potatoes
Buttered Spinach Hot Rolls
Cup Custard Coffee

The recipe for pork sausage jumbles finishes the sausage cookery in the oven on top of an onion slice and tomato half. The meat juices will cook into the vegetables and make a mighty fine flavor combination.

PORK SAUSAGE JUMBLES

1 lb. pork sausage links
2 tbsp. water
Onions Tomatoes

Place sausage in cold frying pan.

PORK SAUSAGE JUMBLES

Add water, cover tightly and simmer until water evaporates. Cut tomatoes in half, on each half place a thin slice of onion topped with two links of sausage. Secure with toothpicks. Place on shallow baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 7 servings.

HASHED BROWN POTATOES

3 cups finely chopped boiled potatoes
2 tbsp. fat; 1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. each pepper and paprika
¼ cup milk; chopped parsley

Add potatoes to fat in hot frying pan, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika, add milk and cook slowly without stirring until browned on under side. Then turn with broad spatula to brown other side. Fold in half like an omelet and serve on hot platter. The potatoes are brown and crusty on outside and soft in center. Chopped parsley may be cooked with potatoes. Makes 6 servings.

CUP CUSTARD

4 eggs, slightly beaten
1 qt. milk
¼ cup sugar ½ tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. salt Nutmeg

Scald milk. Combine eggs, sugar and salt; add milk slowly, stirring until sugar is dissolved, add vanilla. Turn into small custard cups, place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until firm. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg. Cool. Makes 6 servings.

Fashion

PRINTS ARE SMART . . . and every wardrobe should have, at least, one . . . that is brilliant in design and color. This afternoon dress . . . with huge carnations on a black background . . . is styled with a becoming square neckline . . . and has cutouts of the flowers set close together across the front. A practical and all-day outfit for any girl. Warner Star Cheryl Walker models.

Respect Due

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: I am sixteen years old, and I am invited quite often by the mother of a boy in my class at school to come to their house, sometimes with other friends in our group, and sometimes alone. Living with this family is an older woman, I should say about 45 years old, who is a "darling," and all of us are devoted to her. My boy friend and all the members of his family, as well as many friends we meet there, call her by her first name. I have always called her "Miss Allen," but two or three of my school friends have lately begun to call her by her first name. Mother says it is not proper for them to do this. Who is right? MARIE.

Your mother is right. You, and these young school friends of yours, too, should not address this friend-of-the-family by her first name until she suggests that you do this.

Gives New Life to Skin

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM is great stuff . . . but your complexion doesn't understand that sophisticatad psychology. If you're like most girls . . . you go along nicely resisting overdoses of sweets and late hours . . . and, then, you rebel against such denials and let yourself in for a great, big splurge . . . an assertion usually costly to your skin.

Sure, that butterscotch shortcake with heaped ice-cream and oodles of hot, creamy sauce tasted swell . . . and that book was so absorbing you kept right on reading until way past midnight . . . and, for the time being . . . you didn't give a continental what the indulgences did to your complexion.

It was great while it lasted. But now . . . NOW . . . your skin is paying the price . . . and you need something in a hurry to do a bang-up patching job of a skin erupted with external pimples, clogged pores and even blackheads . . . those red, irritating pesky complexion gremlins which have you in a dither . . . because you have a date . . . and what is HE going to think anyway?

REAL TREATMENT AID

If you are suffering from such a temporary skin condition . . . induced by sporadic rebellions against long deprivations of rich desserts and late hours . . . if you need to be brought back into the ranks of gals with lovely complexions . . . a very famous cosmetic house has just the thing for you. It is a medicinal cream that is actually a real treatment aid and corrective application for soothing and dispelling those abominable minor eruptions.

You certainly can be convinced that this cream has a serious purpose in life when you read the contents listed on its label . . . such medicinal curatives like zinc oxide, calamine, bismuth subnitrate, bismuth subgallate . . . all compounded into a cream with an emollient base . . . and life-giving properties for damaged skin.

It is a timesaver for a hurried treatment and most effective for skin blemishes that need to be done away with pronto. It is easy to use . . . and its remedial effects are amazing.

NEW, SOFT LOVELY SKIN

All these high-sounding chemical names represent result-producing elements which when applied to the affected area can be counted on to relieve a nerve-wracking skin condition. From its name alone . . . you can imagine new, soft, lovely skin replacing the scarred spots. If your condition is a more stubborn one . . . use it morning and night . . . and oftener, if necessary, until the condition is cleared up.

For the name of this skin-saving cream, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

IF OVER-INDULGENCE has been costly to your complexion . . . there is a medicinal cream . . . compounded from an imposing array of important chemical substances . . . to give new life to the affected areas of your facial skin and return it to the loveliness you crave. A flawless complexion is one of the prime requisites of beauty . . . and no gal can afford to heed its demands. Beautiful Irene Dunn poses.

Love Him or Diamond?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Maybe you can help me decide what to do in this problem. I'm a sailor and I guess we earn the reputation of being softies and suckers because we deserve it. I fell head over heels in love with a girl and she told me she wouldn't become engaged without a diamond ring, because that's what all her friends got when they promised to marry a guy. So I went into debt for the ring and still owe a hundred bucks on it.

The last time I had shore leave I heard she was carrying on with a good many, and that her engagement to a lieutenant (j. g.) had been announced. I went to see her and found her pretty much of an Arctic Circle. I asked her about my ring which she wasn't wearing. Told her if it was all off I wanted the ring back. She said no gentleman ever asked for a ring back. I asked her if her lieutenant (jg) would pay the balance of $100 and she seemed to think me less of a gentleman than ever.

What would you advise my doing, under these circumstances?

J. J. S.

Write to the jeweler and say you've decided to discontinue payments on the diamond ring. Give him the girl's address and let him see to the rest of the collections, or take back the ring. Undoubtedly she thinks more of your diamond than she does of you. If she's going to marry another man, there's no reason why you should continue to pay for an engagement ring when there is no engagement. Better luck next time.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My son has recently been discharged from the Army, and I'm wondering if I should take off his star from our service flag. I have two other sons in the service.

(Mrs.) J. T.

As your son has now been honorably discharged from the Army, it is correct to remove from your service flag the star which represented him.

BE TACTFUL. Don't talk to a girl about previous dates, men friends, etc., in the presence of her escort. To chatter about the wonderful time you and she had with "Jerry and Bob" is hardly flattering to the man who is present.

Dressmaker Coat Dress

By BETTINA BEDWELL

PRETTIEST edition in years of the coat dress for Spring is sponsored by Jo Copeland. This is a dressmaker version, very soft and flattering, but at the same time not losing the neat and tailored air such dresses should have.

Miss Dulin has sketched this dress. It is made of Ducharne black and white fine-line striped wool, very handsome fabric, with the stripes worked vertically. White linen makes the collar and lapels and the cuffs on the two-thirds length sleeves.

The skirt of this dress rises above the waistline, while below the top is a soft sash of the material passing through tabs and tied in a floppy bow at the left side of the waistline. The buttons that close the waist are crystal.

Service Men Victims Of Florida High Prices

By JACK CONWAY

THOUSANDS OF American servicemen, with their meagre pay, have been among the chief victims of the Florida boom. I talked with hundreds of soldiers, sailors, fliers and marines during my recent trip to Florida. They considered themselves casualties of the skyrocketing prices, and each of them was eager to get back home.

"Life in the tropics is all right if one is on a vacation," said one soldier, "and can go home when he wishes. It is a different story when one has to stay in Florida for months at a time. I have been here since last May. Don't let them kid you when they say it is cool in Florida in the summer. It is burning hot, especially if one has to do much drilling.

"Down here I think of home more than I ever did. I come from Brooklyn where the houses are close together and people swarm all over the streets. I prefer it to Florida with its palm trees, white sand and surf bathing."

The outrageous prices being charged by Florida hotels, in many cases in direct violation of OPA ceilings, hit the servicemen hard.

"Most of us," said one sailor, "do not have more than $5 or $10 for a week-end. With the price of rooms ranging from $2 to $20 a night, and difficult to get, one can understand the plight we are in when on liberty. We also must have money with which to eat."

★ ★ ★

$8 a Night Single

I HEARD a hotel clerk ask a soldier $8 a day for a single room.

Unable to secure hotel accommodations 30 service men took over the cots on the sun roof of a Florida hotel. A night clerk looked the other way.

"Transportation is poor in Florida," said a Marine, "and I rely on hitch-kicking to get from place to place. It is surprising how many people with Florida plates on their cars will not stop to give one a lift. When the war ends, I am going to turn in my war bonds, buy a convertible coupe and ride all over Florida. Sure, I'll give every kid I can get into my car a ride."

The high prices charged for food at small restaurants and honky tonk roadside stands have been assailed by the men in our fighting forces.

"Hamburgs are glorified in Florida by being sold at 20 cents," said one soldier.

★ ★ ★

Like Chicago Best

THE SERVICE men in Florida like Chicago. They say they receive better treatment in Chicago than in any city in the United States.

"A serviceman does not need much money to have a swell time in Chicago," said a sailor. "I trained at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. The people of Chicago cannot do too much for servicemen, and the city went 100 per cent for us. I would like to be back in Chicago again."

This same opinion is shared by scores of servicemen with whom I talked. Chicago is their favorite leave town. Boston and New York also rate high on their lists.

Private groups have tried to aid the situation in Florida. Palm Beach has one of the finest service clubs in the country. It serves food, furnishes transportation, has a fine library, a writing room and other comforts for the men and women in service.

Red Cross workers number among their active workers many women of wealth and national standing.

Unfortunately these organizations can only take care of a few of the needs of the servicemen. On leave, the members of the fighting forces are on their own with only moderate sums of money.

"I got a break," one youngster told me. "Three of us had $5 between us, and we were invited to dinner by a private family in Miami and then given rooms for the night. After breakfast in the morning, we went swimming. It was a grand holiday."

It is natural that service men should be shocked by the reckless display of wealth in the Palm Beach and Miami areas.

★ ★ ★

Profiteers in Orgies

RICH AMERICANS, many of whom have enhanced their fortunes by war contracts, and European refugees are engaged in a contest to see which group can spend the most money on lavish living. They utterly disregard the fact that American kids are fighting and dying on battle fronts in all parts of the world.

This riotous living looked disgraceful to this writer, and I know the effect it had upon youngsters from New England and other parts of the country who are working long hours in the armed forces and who only have a few dollars for their week-ends. These boys would first like to get back home, and if that is impossible, move on to a new spot.

★ ★ ★

Prefer Battle Areas

THEY PREFER even the battle areas overseas to their present way of living. The latter move would at least relieve the monotony of their lives, and enable them to dig deeper into the war.

The sight of the wounded youngsters at the Ream General Hospital at Palm Beach, many of whom are able to attend sports events, does not stop these American kids from wanting to get moving. They are willing to leave their so-called tropical paradise to the rich Americans, millionaire refugees and to the grasping hotel and restaurant owners.

"My idea of a good time," said one boy "would be to get home to dinner some night and then take mother and the girl friend to the neighborhood movie. Mother had a birthday last week, and I was very happy I had $10 to send her as a gift."

The American service men in Florida are a fine, decent, wholesome group. I wish I could say as much for all the other people I met and saw while there.

Lucier of Red Sox Waits Draft Word

WOONSOCKET, R. I., March 14 (AP)—Pending word from his Selective Service board concerning his draft status, Lou Lucier, Red Rox pitcher, said today he would delay signing his contract.

Lucier, the father of two children, one of whom was born this month, is now deferred because he is employed in a war industry, but under the government's new non-deferrable classification he would be available for service as he is under 26 years old.

The Sox pitcher, however, is still handicapped his physician said by injuries suffered last season when he was hit by a thrown ball and three days later was struck by a line drive while playing with Louisville.

Holdout Ranks Growing, Many Miss First Drills

Star Catcher Walker Cooper of the Cardinals; Vince DiMaggio, slugging outfielder of the Pirates, and Gee Walker, Reds' outfielder, are the latest additions to the 1944 ranks of baseball holdouts, according to the Associated Press.

Generally front office men dislike the word holdout, but players unsigned at the start of spring training are regarded by the fans in that category.

Warren Giles, general manager of the reds, expressed the front office view in asserting "there are no holdouts (among the Reds). Some are just late in reporting."

BREADON HOPEFUL

Cooper, in company with First Sacker Johnny Hopp, discussed terms with President Sam Breadon of the Cards yesterday, but the two did not sign contracts. Breadon asserted afterwards, "I don't expect any trouble."

No comment was forthcoming from the Pirates on DiMaggio except that he was unsigned. Walker, however, announced in Orlando, Fla., he wants more money from the Reds.

That puts Walker in the company of such other stars as Shortstop Billy Jurges of the Giants, Ron Northey, outfielder of the Phillies; Outfielder Luis Olmo of the Dodgers, and Pitcher Luke Hamlin of the Athletics, all of whom have asserted they want a salary hike.

Pitcher Bobo Newsom, traded to the A's by Washington, has announced he is satisfied with Connie Mack's terms, but has not yet signed a contract.

Other diamond developments today included:

ATLANTIC CITY — Yanks bought Catcher Joe Glenn from Kansas City, but learned Pitcher Marvin Breuer has decided to remain in his war plant job.

11 REDS MISSING

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Eleven players missing as Reds worked out.

MUNCIE, Ind. — Pirates informed pitcher Jim Hopper inducted into Army. Pitcher Wally Hebert and catcher Hank Camelli, detained by jobs, will arrive at camp late.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — Detroit announced Elon Hogsett, who pitched for Tigers decade ago, will try for pitching berth. Pitcher Roy Henshaw sent word he intends to remain at Chicago war job.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Outfielder Roy Cullenbine signed Cleveland contract, 21st Indian to sign.

CHICAGO—Infielder Grey Clarke, up from Milwaukee, and Bob Mistele, pitcher from St. Paul, signed White Sox contracts. Outfielder Myril Hoag also signed bringing total satisfied players up to 29.

13 GIANTS UNSIGNED

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—Manager Mel Ott announced he has been reclassified 1-A. Thirteen players still unsigned, including Jurges.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Senators took it easy in first workout. Pitcher Alex Carrasquel reported from Venezuela and brought along a countryman, Pitcher Juan Hernandez.

BOSTON—Veteran Pitcher Jim Tobin signed with Braves and will report to Wallingford, Ct., camp soon.

BUFFALO—Milt Welch, 19-year-old catcher, signed Bison contrat. He is 4-F.

BULLETIN

ORLANDO, Fla., March 14 (AP)—Outfielder Gerald 'Gee' Walker of the Cincinnati Reds was enroute to the club's spring training camp today carrying his latest contract with him, and friends said he probably would wire club officials befor chis arrival that he was ready to sign.

Bruins-Hawks in Hub Finale

By BILL GRIMES

In their final home game of the N. H. L. season, the Bruins take on the Chicago Blackhawks tonight at the Boston Garden. Judging from the outcome of their nine games, the Rossmen and Chicago are evenly matched, for the Windy City club has a one game edge. The Hawks jumped the Bruins by taking the first three games, all of which were played in Chicago but dropped the next three, which were decided on Boston ice. On their last trip here, Mike Karakas chalked up a shutout but the Bruins squared the series by beating him in the Windy City. The Hawks took the ninth game to go one up on the series.

Mathematically, the Rossmen still have a chance to make the play-offs. Here's the setup. If the Bruins win tonight and then beat Detroit and Toronto and the Blackhawks drop their remaining four games, the Rossmen will have compiled 47 points, thereby tying Chicago in that department. But, in that case, with both clubs having won the same number of games, the club which has scored the most goals (the Bruins) would be awarded fourth place.

Of course, there isn't one chance in a million that the Bruins will take three and the Hawks lose four. It isn't a good bet even at those odds for the short end boys.

Little Maurice Courteau will be in the nets for the Bruins. Bert Gardiner has returned to his home. So Courteau was brought up from the Olympics, who start the American Amateur Hockey Ass'n play-offs tonight in Brooklyn. This will be the fourth time that Courteau has guarded the nets for the Rossmen this season against the Blackhawks. And, it will also be the fourth time that Mike Karakas has faced the Bruins. Courteau has dropped two decisions to the Hawks but the Bruins have beaten Karakas only once.

Manager Art Ross, with the exception of the substitution of Courteau for Gardiner, will use the same personnel that knocked off Les Canadiens Sunday night.

As an added attraction for the Bruins' finale of the 1943-44 campaign, four of the five leading scorers will be in action.

Herbie Cain, who equalled the all-time scoring record of 73 with the goal which beat the Habitants, is leading the pack with 73 points with Doug Bentley in the runner-up berth with an even 70 and Bill Mosienko and Clint Smith, tied for fourth place with 67, two points in arrears of Lorne Carr of the Maple Leafs.

Before the game Bill Cowley will be presented with the Dufresne trophy, which is awarded annually to the most important Bruin player.

Night Baseball Aim at Somerville

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Faculty Manager Bob Buckley, Somerville High School, is now building a better mousetrap—and if everything works out according to schedule, he'll have the fans flocking into the hot-bed of baseball.

A pioneer of floodlight football in New England, Buckley intends to install the arcs for baseball this season and he already has made arrangements. There's only one angle holding him up—a suitable field—but he hopes to straighten that out shortly.

JUMPS THE FIELD

Thus, the up-and-coming faculty manager gets the jump on the entire field once again. While the big leaguers continue to play under the sun, Somerville High, under Buckley, will be giving all the fans an opportunity to see their school nines in action. Whereas ordinarily work would prevent a father from seeing his son play, the night baseball will offer this new opportunity.

Further than that, Buckley's newest brain-child will be great for kids who intend to move into the big leagues. It will give them the feel of the ball under the arcs so that they won't be handicapped in working their way up through the minor circuits where most baseball is played at night.

Then, too, it will help sports in the school financially. Night baseball just can't help but click in the turnstiles. And a profit for a baseball season would be the most unusual thing that could happen in schoolboy ranks. You can count on your fingers the number of schools which have been out of the red on the diamond over the course of a campaign.

ALREADY IN TRAINING

Baseball, along with basketball, has been the winningest sport for Somerville for the past few years. The teams of Coach Barney Curtin have been recognized as some of the best locally. To insure another stellar outfit for the coming of the floodlights, Coach Curtin has already called out battery candidates for this spring.

Dodds Eyes 2-Mile Mark After Big Chicago Mile

By HUCK FINNEGAN

FOR TWO YEARS now, Jack Ryder and Greg Rice among others have been awaiting the night when Gil Dodds would really "explode" in a mile race. Not like Saturday when he shaved the world competitive indoor mark from 4:07.4 to 4:07.3, but a grand and glorious all-out effort that would see him tumble the record down around Glenn Cunningham's paced 4:04.4.

If ever that Saturday is to come, it will be March 18, 1944, when Gil toes the line in the Bankers' mile on his favorite Chicago track. The new mile record holder always liked the Chicago Arena boards better than those in Boston and New York Gardens, and so did Rice, who set up his 8:51 two-mile record there last winter.

Gil Dodds

More important than the two, however, is the fact that Gil will have no record troubles on his mind. He shouldered aside the 4:07.4 triumvirate of Cunningham, Fenske and MacMitchell Saturday and has the record to himself. Now his only thought is of winning, and surely he must be convinced by this time that neither Hulse, Simms nor Burnham is going to catch him this winter. Thus his mind should be at ease all week, and when Gil has no worries every record from 880 to 10 miles is at his mercy.

★ ★ ★

Gil Sprints

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE: After Saturday's 4:07.3 mile, he ran the 1000, in an attempt to duplicate Cunningham's "double" at the same K. C. meet in '35. Opposing him were national champion Les Eisenhart, intercollegiate champion Art Dailey and Steamboat Fulton—a crack field. He had 70 minutes rest before the race.

Said Ryder: "You've done a good night's work. Don't break your neck in this race. Stay with 'em for three laps, then if you feel like sprinting let 'er go. If you don't just step off the track, I won't mind."

So the Gordon College boy, his mind relieved, stayed with the field for three laps, then staged a sprint nobody suspected he had and waltzed home to victory in 2:11.2. That isn't a world record but the '42 race at the same meet was won in 2:11.9. That'll give you an idea.

"He was full of running," said Ryder this morning. "I never saw him look better than he did in that 1000."

For no reason other than he had done all his worrying for the mile, was at mental ease for the 1000. "Loose as a goose," as the ball players say.

Well, he certainly should be "loose as a goose," at Chicago; he'll be on his favorite track and if he's fortunate enough to draw the pole or No. 2 position (he's been on the outside in his last three races) he might get out of his system the 1:00, 2:00, 3:01, 4:04 mile that intimates know is in there.

Double in Cleveland

DODDS will try another "double" in the Cleveland meet one week from Friday. This time, however, he'll run the two-mile and mile. He's been aching for a shot at Greg Rice's 8:51 mark all season but promoters know the mile is THE indoor race and insisted he stick to it. He packed 16,000 into NY Garden Saturday, pulled all 16,000 out of their seats with his record gait. It was his fifth and last mile of the NY season, and the track faithful went home satisfied because he lowered the record.

Says Ryder: "Dodds has the greatest recuperative powers of any athlete I ever saw. One minute after a 4:07 race he's breathing as normally as if he never ran a step" . . . He has no worries about Dodds being able to "double" in Cleveland . . . Brooklyn promoters are staging a meet for the Red Cross the night after Cleveland and will fly Gil East if he promises to compete.

Szabo's Smooth Style May Bother White

It'll be Sandor Szabo's smooth wrestling style against the roughhouse tactics of Ed "Strangler" White tomorrow night at the Arena where Promoter Paul Bowser will be conducting his weekly wrestling show. White, working with the duration champion, the Golden Terror, will be staging an even rougher offensive than in the past, probably with a "secret weapon" as the spearhead.

In the semi-final, Leo Numa will attempt to stop the winning spree of John Katen while in the weekly special, Jim Spencer will be matched against Manuel Cortez, former professional boxer. The opener will pit Tiger Tasker against Dr. John "Drop-Kick" Murphy, Acton osteopath.

105 Candiates Out For Notre Dame Nine

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 14 (AP)—Notre Dame, never lacking in football manpower, has plenty of baseball players, too. Baseball Coach Jake Kline counted 105 candidates for the 1944 Irish team when he called his first practice yesterday.

Only three were lettermen, but Kline has a month to select a starting nine for the opening game. Seven of the candidates, outstanding players from other schools, were assigned to Notre Dame by the Navy.

Refund $18,698 For School Tilt

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 14 (AP)—Illinois, like neighboring Indiana, takes his high school basketball seriously.

If the University of Illinois gymnasium had sufficient seating capacity, approximately 150,000 fans would see games in the three-day state cage title tourney this week, but only 50,000 can be accommodated.

Requests for tickets were at the rate of nearly three for each one available and Ticket Manager C. W. Lyon had to refund $18,698.

Governors to See Welch, LaMotta Go

The governors of Massachusetts and Maine are expected to head the list of notables at the ringside on St. Patrick's night when the holiday crowd storms Boston Garden for the battle between New England middleweight champion Coleman Patrick Welch and the "duration" king Jake LaMotta.

Gov. Sumner Sewall has engaged Box 2 in the center of the Garden and Gov. Saltonstall is expected to accept an invitation from Promotors Jack O'Brien and Eddie Mack. Gov. Sewall, a great fight fan and enthusiastic backer of Welch who hails from Portland, suggested that unless the chief executive of Massachusetts had other plans he might sit with him.

Probably the second best bout of the night will be the meeting between the solid punching "white hope" from Saugus, Howard Thompson, and the only battler ever to beat him, Earl Lowman of Washington, D. C.

A large group of fans took time off yesterday to watch LaMotta and Welch go through their paces at Kelly & Hayes gym and left with the certainty that the 10-round battle between these two great middleweights will be a fitting climax to St. Patrick's Day.

Fans who crowded around the ropes were convinced that LaMotta is one of the busiest boxers in the business and the nearest thing to Harry Greb that has come into the city in many a moon.

Equally impressive was Welch when he took his turn at 4 p. m. It was generally agreed that the LaMotta fortunes might take a sudden and disastrous tumble at the hands of the Hammering Harp.

Zollo Stars In AAU Trials

Bobby Zollo, former 135-pound champion of the 1942 All America Tourney, was the outstanding performer on the New England A. A. A. U. Boxing card in the first elimination series for championship places at the Arena last night.

Zollo took his first two fights in the 147's easily, both by the knockout route, and was awarded the final by default

Seven Tigers on Hand For First Practise

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 14 (INS)—The Detroit Tigers were to open spring training today with fewer than enough veterans to man a nine-man team.

The seven Tigers on hand for the first day's training were Harold Newhouser and Paul Trout, both pitchers on last year's squad; Bob Swift, catcher; Walter Beck, Elon Hogsett and Zeb Eaton, pitchers, and Charles Hostetter.

Do You Own A "Scratching" Dog?

If you own and are fond of a dog that is continually scratching, digging, rubbing, and biting himself until his skin is raw and sore, don't just feel sorry for him. The dog can't help himself. But you may. He may be clean and flea free and just suffering from an intense itching irritation that has centered in the nerve endings of his skin. Do as thousands of pleased dog owners are doing. At any good drug store, pet or sport shop, get a 35c package of Rex Hunters Dog Powders, and give them once a week. Note the quick improvement. One owner writes: "My female setter on Sept. 25th, did not have a handful of hair on her body—all scratched and bitten off. I gave her the powders as directed. By Nov. 5th she was all haired out." Learn what they will do for your dog. Make a 35c test.

Gremlins?

This British flier, descending from his Lancaster bomber will wonder if he carried down two gremlins when he spots the two ground crew members apparently hanging upside down from the belly of the plane. Actually the men are standing behind the plane, and their reflections are seen in the rain-soaked ground of an English air base.

Saw F. D.
